If you have a clonezillo it will not need a serial. I just spent the last hour trying to get your suggestions to work and is worth nothing. I will continue to search for the ghost. Thanks for trying, but it is a bit of a waste of your time. i have found out how to do it, it is just a matter of updating the software and your dreams come true. I can not thank you all for your time. Peace. You are not wrong. If you have a clonezillo it will not need a serial. Peace.Q: Most efficient way to get a JSON tree structure from a JSON string Given some information for a query, I'm trying to get the resulting JSON string for the query. Right now, I've solved this problem by doing something like this: public JsonResult Query() { var sql = "SELECT * FROM Student"; var json = JsonConvert.SerializeObject(Database.Database.Query(sql, new { CommandTimeout = 100000 }); return Json(json); } The way this code works is that I first execute the Query statement to get a value set of data. Then, I format that value set of data in a Json string and return that formatted Json. Is there a more efficient way of doing this? For instance, can I instead tell EF that what I'm returning is a Json result set and then have it return the result set as a Json string? If so

"So why is it so important to you?" "It's a little complicated." "How did you get in here?" "I was here this morning." "Before you showed up." "Ah, yes." "I made some phone calls." "Yeah, I figured." "I was afraid something had happened to you." "Is that why you didn't check in at work?" "I got a raise, thanks to you." "You know, you may be a big shot in Boston, but in L.A., you're just another hustler." "You're here because you want to be." "I thought that was part of the appeal, but since you've told me everything," "I'm gonna take my nice, new watch and my rose-colored glasses and go." "Oh, no." "You're stuck with me." "We're both stuck with each other." "Now, look, I'm not gonna blackmail you, but you can't run from us anymore." "All right?" "I'm all over your ass!" "I'm all over your ass." "This is my cell number." "You call me." "I think you know what to do." "Charlie?" "Is that you?" "I've been waiting for you to get back." "I took your advice and got your watch." "I know what to do." "And I can't tell you how much that means to me." "Hey, Betty, it's Charlie." "I got a message from "Bonanza", telling me that you had an emergency." "Anyway, I hope you're okay." "I'll, uh, call you later, all right?" "Bye." "Hey, Charlie." "Hey, you've reached Charlie." "I'm not here, so just leave a message." "If you're my brother, and you're not dead, then where the hell are you?" "I know that things have been strange between us." "I'm worried about you." "Are you with Ben?" "I don't know what you're into these days." "I need to know you're okay." "Call me back."Q: In Chrome Extension, The script I
